APPLIED FINANCE SELECT FUND

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Applied Finance Select Fund (the "Select Fund") is long-term capital appreciation.

Fees and Expenses of the Select Fund

This table describes the fees and expenses that you may pay if you buy and hold shares of the Select Fund.

Shareholder Fees

(fees paid directly from your investment)

	Investor Class	Institutional Class
Redemption Fee as a % of amount redeemed (if applicable, for shares redeemed within 60 days of purchase)	2.00%	2.00%
Maximum deferred sales charge (load) (as a percentage of the NAV at time of purchase)	None	None

Annual Operating Expenses

(expenses that you pay each year as a percentage of the value of your investment)

Management Fees	0.90%	0.90%
Distribution (12b-1) and Service Fees	0.25%	None
Other Expenses:
Shareholder Services Plan	0.22%	0.08%
Other Expenses	0.29%	0.29%
Total Other Expenses	0.51%	0.37%
Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses	1.66%	1.27%
Less Fee Waivers and/or Expense Reimbursements ⁽¹⁾ . . .	(0.66%)	(0.52%)
Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses After Fee Waivers and/or Expense Reimbursements ⁽¹⁾	1.00%	0.75%

⁽¹⁾ Applied Finance Advisors, LLC (the "Adviser") has entered into a written expense limitation agreement under which it has agreed to limit the total expenses of the Select Fund (exclusive of interest, expenses incurred under a plan of distribution adopted pursuant to the Rule 12b-1 under the Investment Company Act of 1940, taxes, acquired fund fees and expenses, brokerage commissions, dividend expenses on short sales, and other extraordinary expenses not incurred in the ordinary course of business) to an annual rate of 0.75% of the average daily net assets of the Select Fund. Each waiver and/or reimbursement of an expense by the Adviser is subject to repayment by the Select Fund within three years following the date such waiver and/or reimbursement was made, provided that the Select Fund can make the repayment without exceeding the expense limitation in place at the time of the waiver or reimbursement and at the time the waiver or reimbursement is recouped. This expense limitation agreement may not be terminated prior to August 31, 2021 unless mutually agreed to in writing by the parties.

Example:

The following example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Select Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Select Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all your shares at the end of those periods. The example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year, and that the Select Fund’s operating expenses remain the same. The effect of the Adviser’s agreement to waive fees and/or reimburse expenses is only reflected in the first year of each example shown below. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

Share class	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Investor Class	$102	$459	$840	$1,910
Institutional Class	$ 77	$351	$647	$1,488

For both share classes, your expenses would be the same as in the table above if you did not redeem your shares at the end of each period.

Portfolio Turnover

The Select Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or “turns over” its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Select Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses or in the example, affect the Select Fund’s performance. During the most recent fiscal year ended April 30, 2020, the Select Fund’s portfolio turnover rate was 9.66% of the average value of its portfolio.

Principal Investment Strategies

The Select Fund invests primarily in the equity securities of U.S. companies whose market capitalizations are $3 billion or more, measured at the time of purchase.

Equity securities in which the Select Fund may invest include common and preferred stocks, rights and warrants, and securities convertible into equity securities.

The Select Fund may also invest in the securities of other investment companies including exchange-traded funds (“ETFs”).

In choosing investments, the Adviser employs a proprietary stock selection model that ranks stocks according to fundamental criteria that the Adviser believes are indicative of company strength and superior risk/return profile. These criteria may include intrinsic value, management quality, leverage and free cash flow, earnings quality, return on assets, return on equity and return on capital. The Select Fund will normally invest across a majority of economic sectors, although it may at times focus its investments in certain sectors.

The Select Fund will normally hold between 35 to 65 securities in its portfolio.

The Adviser will typically sell a company from the Select Fund's portfolio when indicated by the proprietary stock selection model described above or when the Adviser elects to take a temporary defensive position.

From time to time, the Adviser may take temporary defensive positions, which are inconsistent with the Select Fund's principal investment strategies, in attempting to respond to adverse market, economic, political, or other conditions. For example, the Select Fund may hold all or a portion of its assets in money market instruments, including cash, cash equivalents, U.S. government securities, other investment grade fixed income securities, certificates of deposit, bankers acceptances, commercial paper, money market funds and repurchase agreements. While the Select Fund is in a defensive position, the opportunity to achieve its investment objective will be limited.

Principal Risks

Risk is inherent in all investing. A summary description of certain principal risks of investing in the Select Fund is mentioned below. Before you decide whether to invest in the Select Fund, carefully consider these risk factors and special considerations associated with investing in the Select Fund, which may cause you to lose part or all your investment in the Select Fund. There can be no assurance that the Select Fund will achieve its investment objective.

Equity Securities Risk. Since the Select Fund invests in equity securities, it is subject to the risk that stock prices will fall over short or extended periods of time. Historically, the equity markets have moved in cycles, and the value of the Select Fund's equity securities may fluctuate from day to day. Individual companies may report poor results or be negatively affected by industry and/or economic trends and developments. The prices of securities issued by such companies may suffer a decline in response. These factors contribute to price volatility, which is a principal risk of investing in the Select Fund.

Market Risk. The value of securities in the Select Fund's portfolio will fluctuate and, as a result, the Select Fund's share price may decline suddenly or over a sustained period. The equity securities purchased by the Select Fund may involve large price swings and potential for loss.

Management Risk. The strategies used by the Adviser may fail to produce the intended result.

Large Cap Risk. Larger, more established companies may be unable to attain the high growth rates of successful, smaller companies during periods of economic expansion.

Risks of Investment Selection and Asset Allocation. The Select Fund's investment success depends on the skill of the Adviser in evaluating, selecting and monitoring the portfolio assets. If the Adviser's conclusions about growth rates or securities values are incorrect, the Select Fund may not perform as anticipated.

Sector Risk. Sector risk is the possibility that securities within the same group of industries will decline in price due to sector-specific market or economic developments. If the Select Fund invests more heavily in a sector, the value of its shares may be especially sensitive to factors and economic risks that specifically affect that sector.

Risk of Other Equity Securities. Other equity securities in which the Select Fund may invest include convertible securities, preferred securities, rights and warrants.

Convertible Securities. Convertible securities are subject to the risks and price fluctuations of the underlying stock. They may be subject to the risk that the issuer will not be able to pay interest or dividends when due and their market value may change based on changes in the issuer's credit rating or the market's perception of the issuer's creditworthiness. Some convertible preferred stocks have a conversion or call feature that allows the issuer to redeem the stock before the conversion date, which could diminish the potential for capital appreciation on the investment.

Preferred Securities. The fixed dividend rate of preferred stocks may cause their prices to behave more like those of debt securities. If interest rates rise, the value of preferred stock having a fixed dividend rate tends to fall. Preferred stock generally ranks behind debt securities in claims for dividends and assets of the issuer in a liquidation or bankruptcy.

Rights and Warrants. The price of a warrant does not necessarily move parallel to the price of the underlying security and is generally more volatile than that of the underlying security. Rights are similar to warrants, but normally have a shorter duration. The market for rights or warrants may be very limited and it may be difficult to sell them promptly at an acceptable price. Rights and warrants have no voting rights, receive no dividends and have no rights with respect to the assets of the issuer.

Investment Company Securities Risk. When the Select Fund invests in other investment companies, including ETFs, it indirectly bears its proportionate share of fees and expenses of the other investment company, which results in higher Select Fund expenses. The Select Fund may be affected by losses of the other investment companies and the level of risk arising from their investment practices.

ETF Risk. ETFs generally are investment companies whose shares represent an interest in a portfolio of securities. Some ETFs are designed to track various market indexes. Because the Select Fund may invest in ETFs, it is subject to additional risks that do not apply to conventional mutual funds, including the risks that the market price of an ETF's shares may trade at a discount to its net asset value ("NAV"), an active secondary market may not develop or be maintained, or trading may be halted by the exchange in which they trade, which may impact the Select Fund's ability to sell its shares.

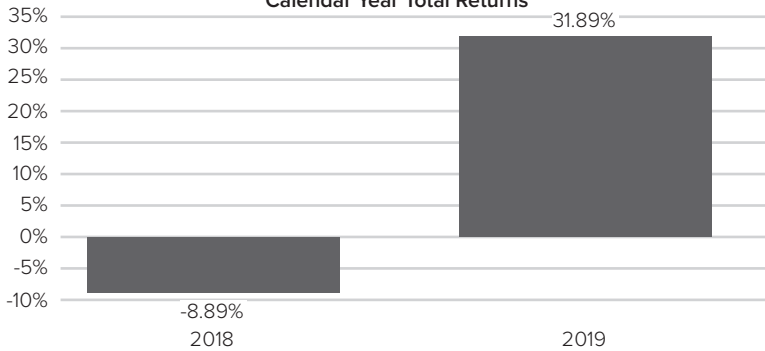

Performance Information

The bar chart below shows changes in the Select Fund's annual returns for the Investor Class shares (the Class with the longest period of annual returns) from year to year. The performance of Institutional Class shares will differ due to differences in expenses.

The table below shows how the Select Fund's average annual returns for the periods indicated compare over time to those of a broad-based securities market index. The table also presents the impact of taxes on the Select Fund's Investor Class shares.

This information provides some indication of the risks of investing in the Select Fund. Past performance of the Select Fund is not necessarily an indication of how it will perform in the future. Updated performance information is available by calling toll-free 800-673-0550.

Payments to Broker-Dealers and Other Financial Intermediaries

If you purchase shares of the Select Fund through a broker-dealer or other financial intermediary (such as a bank), the Select Fund and its distributor may pay the intermediary for the sale of Select Fund shares and related services. Ask your sales person or visit your financial intermediary's website for more information.
